Enhance Your 2011 Summer Reading Program with

FREE ONLINE RESOURCES!

One World, Many Stories

For children's and teen manual resources, visit www.highsmith.com/cslp and click on New! Free Online Resources.

YOU ARE HERE

The link above provides instant access to comprehensive collections of online materials that support the 2011 CSLP children's and teen reading lists. The collections include

- Author interviews in video, audio and written formats
- Audio booktalks with authors, illustrators and professional narrators
- Book discussion and activity guides
- Audio recordings of authors pronouncing and telling stories about their names
- Links to author and illustrator websites

Use these complimentary online tools to enhance ...

- Staff Development Prepare for the summer by learning more about featured authors and books.
- Programming Integrate ready-to-use activities and audio booktalks to round out your sessions.
- Book Groups Stimulate conversation with book guides and novel units.
- Technology Integration Enable patrons and staff to listen to brief online performances of books, watch authors in their studios and access authoritative Web-based material about the featured books and authors.

Questions?

For more information, please contact Nick Glass at nick@teachingbooks.net, or call 1-800-596-0710.

Free online resources are brought to you by Upstart®, in partnership with TeachingBooks.net and the Collaborative Summer Library Reading Program.

Upstart
Creative Promotions to Reach Every Reader

TeachingBooks.net
Sharing the spirit of books and reading™

CSLP
Collaborative Summer Library Program