

Additional support for OHP members

Some Oregon Health Plan members can get climate, housing, and/or nutrition help at no cost through health-related social needs (HRSN) services.

Types of HRSN services

Climate supports: These include no-cost air conditioners, heaters, air-filtration devices, mini-refrigerators, and portable power supply units.

Housing supports: These include help with rent and utilities for up to six months; storage fees; home modifications like wheelchair ramps or grab bars; and pest control, deep cleaning, and related hotel costs.

Nutrition supports: These include medically tailored meals and nutrition education.

Eligibility

You may be eligible for some or all HRSN services if you:

- Are an OHP member
- Have a high-risk medical condition
- Are in transition—for example, if you:
 - Are homeless or at risk of becoming homeless
 - Were in a psychiatric facility, jail, or prison in the past year
 - Have ever been involved in child welfare services
 - Are becoming eligible for Medicare in the next three months or enrolled in Medicare no more than nine months ago
 - Are a youth with special healthcare needs

Each HRSN service type has its own additional eligibility criteria.
