WORKSHOP FOR EDUCATORS: HELPING YOUNG CHILDREN UNDERSTAND DEPORTATION THROUGH SOCIAL STORIES

Social Story: Why are Parents Being Taken Away?

During times of crisis, young children need strong emotional support from parents and educators to feel safe and secure. One of the most difficult topics to explain to a child is deportation, an issue that can cause deep fear, confusion, and anxiety, especially for children in immigrant families.

In this workshop, you will learn:

- How to use social stories as a tool to explain deportation in an age-appropriate way.
- Ways to provide honest yet comforting communication with children experiencing fear or uncertainty.
- Strategies for educators & caregivers to step in when parents are unable to have these conversations.
