

Lieutenant Scott Jenkins

Duluth Police Department (Retired) - Duluth, Minnesota

Lieutenant Scott Jenkins has been a police officer for 31 years, having served as a patrol and canine officer, tactical team commander, a Special Investigator with the Minnesota Gang Strike Force, a supervisory sergeant of the Lake Superior Drug and Gang Task Force, has served as a Federal ATF taskforce officer and served several years as a patrol division commander.

For more than 19 years, Lieutenant Jenkins has been a consultant/trainer relating to issues involving Intimate Partner Violence. He has consulted for the National Training Project of Minnesota Program Development, Inc., located in Duluth, Minnesota and has been involved in training police officers, advocates, prosecutors, probation officers, judges, child protection workers and other practitioners in "best practices" regarding response to domestic violence cases and in the development of policy and response protocols. Lieutenant Jenkins has presented throughout the United States and internationally with Praxis International and the Advocates for Human Rights in the United Kingdom, Bulgaria, Latvia, Lithuania, Serbia and Guam.

Lieutenant Jenkins has collaborated with;

- Emerge Program (Boston, MA)
- Battered Women's Justice Project (Minneapolis, MN)
- Praxis International (Minneapolis, MN)
- Los Angeles City Attorney's Office and L.A.P.D. (California)
- United States Department of State (Washington D.C.)
- United States Department of Justice (Washington D.C.)
- Stalking Resource Center - National Center for Victims of Crime
- Office on Violence Against Victims (Washington D.C.)
- National Clearinghouse for the Defense of Battered Women (Washington D.C.)

This work has related to intimate partner homicide and fatality review, dangerousness assessment, stalking, full faith and credit, domestic violence response curriculum and policy development.