

Register Now for the National Center's Webinar:

Celebrating Safe Sleep Successes: Stories from Fatality Review Teams

Wednesday, February 22, 2023
12:00-1:00 PM ET

SPEAKERS

Carri Cottengim, MA—Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

Brianne Edwards, PA—Lach's Legacy

Jill Munger, RN—South Dakota Department of Health

Kyran Quinlan, MD, MPH—Rush University Medical Center

Gina Lowell, MD, MPH—Rush University Medical Center

Felicia Clark, BA, ABMDI—Rush University Medical Center

Click here to register: Webinar Registration - Zoom

Each year approximately 3500 infants die suddenly and unexpectedly in the United States. Most of these deaths occur in a sleeping environment. Join us and fatality review partners from Cook County, Illinois, and the state of South Dakota as they share examples of prevention work supported by the data, partners, members, and prevention recommendations of state and local fatality review teams.

The National Center for Fatality Review and Prevention, a program of Michigan Public Health Institute, is funded by the U.S. Health Resources and Services Administration's Maternal and Child Health Bureau to provide training, technical assistance, and data support to Child Death Review and Fetal and Infant Mortality Review programs across the country.

Questions? Contact the National Center for Fatality Review and Prevention: 800-656-2434 or info@ncfrp.org. A limit of 1,000 attendees is permitted. Webinars are archived and posted on our website: <https://www.ncfrp.org>.