Alzheimer's & Public Health: Moving Oregon Forward

Register now for Alzheimer's and Public Health: Moving Oregon Forward. Participants in this symposium will learn the basics of Alzheimer's disease, why it should be addressed from a public health approach, and how the State Plan for Alzheimer's Disease and Related Dementias in Oregon deals with it.

Participants will also provide advice and recommendations for prioritizing actions in the State Plan using the Essential Services of Public Health.

National and state experts in public health and Alzheimer's will be presenting at the symposium.

Public Health professionals and students are encouraged to attend.
