

LIDIA AND THE LITTLE LIGHTNING BUGS is a bright and cheerful story about Lidia, a teacher in a place called Littletown. Lidia spends her time teaching all the little lightning bugs how to shine their light. Based on the author's childhood memories of catching lightning bugs, this story is meant to awaken a child's imagination and creativity.

Jenny Blakey is a young woman passionate about art and children. Currently a medical student pursuing Pediatrics. Jenny presently lives with her family in Washington State, United States of America.
