Tuition payment should be submitted in the form of a check payable to ONCAIC. We do not have the ability to take credit card payments at this time. Further instructions can be found on page one of the application. For purposes of this training, interview types are defined as follows:

An initial responder interview is a minimal-facts interview conducted in the field by initial responders (such as law enforcement officers (LEs) and/or Department of Human Services Child Welfare Personnel (DHS-CWPs)) to elicit just enough information to establish safety and determine the need for a criminal investigation and/or an immediate medical evaluation. This interview typically takes place during the initial responder's first contact with the child/family and may be followed by an in-depth forensic interview.

A forensic interview is a developmentally sensitive and legally sound structured conversation with a child intended to elicit detailed information about a possible event(s) that the child may have experienced or witnessed. Forensic interviews are coordinated to avoid duplicative interviewing, follow research-based guidelines, and are conducted by trained professionals who participate in ongoing peer review, ideally in a child-friendly environment (such as a Child Abuse Intervention Center).
