

COOL CITIES: OLD BUILDINGS. NEW ATTITUDES.

2013 OREGON MAIN STREET CONFERENCE

OCTOBER 2-4, 2013 • ASTORIA, OREGON

About the Conference: Get ready to be inspired! Make new connections and get new tools to keep your downtown vibrant and competitive in today's market. The 2013 Oregon Main Street Conference will offer proven ideas and strategies for preservation-based revitalization that is relevant to rural, mid-sized, and urban communities. This conference is a great way to look at the "big picture" of downtown revitalization by discovering fresh ideas and learning numerous ways to turn your historic downtown or neighborhood commercial district into a bustling center of activity. Sessions cover a variety of topics for both beginners and those with experience. The format includes walking tours, lectures, and networking time. Join us for this very special, one-of-a-kind conference!

Who Should Attend: Staff and volunteers of organizations focusing on downtown historic preservation and economic development, downtown business and property owners, government leaders, chamber of commerce professionals and volunteers, and others with an interest in the future of downtown will benefit from attending this conference.

Our Host Community: Astoria exemplifies our conference theme, "Cool Cities: Old Buildings. New Attitudes." Filled with wonderful historic buildings, excellent shopping and dining opportunities, and a bevy of activities, this community of 10,000 on the Columbia River will be a place of discovery for conference attendees. Surrounded by the beauty of the forest, mountains, 3 rivers, and the sea, plan on extending your visit beyond the conference to soak up all the area has to offer!

Keynote Address: Fred Kent of Project for Public Spaces will discuss Placemaking, the Power of Ten principles, and how to create cities of the future. Learn how:

- the Placemaking process is different from traditional planning.
- to effectively engage the community in the planning process and tools to use.
- to use Lighter, Quicker, Cheaper strategies to spur interest and test out new approaches.
- Placemaking can be applied to cross-cutting issues such as sustainability, health, diversity, and livability.

Case studies from around the world will exemplify both small scale interventions to large scale public destinations with insight into how they were achieved and why they are successful. Mr. Kent is a leading authority on revitalizing city spaces and one of the foremost thinkers in livability, smart growth, and the future of the city. As founder and president of Project for Public Spaces, he is known throughout the world as a dynamic speaker and prolific ideas man.
