

LIBRARY SERVICES FOR STATE EMPLOYEES

- Assigned librarians familiar with your agency's work
- Provides training & instruction to state employees
- Access to dozens of databases selected especially for state employees
- Oregon state government publications
- Federal government publications, especially those about Oregon and the Pacific Northwest

The State Library Building

State Library of Oregon Request Desk, 1931

STATE LIBRARY COLLECTIONS

- Oregon state government publications
- Federal government publications
- Items on Oregon history and culture
- Library and Information Science collection

Explore our collections in the catalog:
<https://library.oregon.gov/>

Activate your account:

<https://slo.oregon.gov/account-activation>

State Library of Oregon
Government Information and Library Services

library.oregon.gov

Special Collections & Photographs

Three people working in the mailroom of the State Library of Oregon in 1921

Government Services maintains historic collections on Oregon topics:

- Special Collections includes rare books and periodicals on Oregon history and culture
- The Photograph Collection is available online and includes historic photos of a variety of Oregon topics and events, such as agriculture, ethnic groups, education, recreation, and buildings.

Learn more about Special Collections at <https://library.oregon.gov/>

OREGON DOCUMENTS COLLECTION

The State Library has collected and preserved Oregon state government publications since 1907

Oregon government publications include:

- reports
- audits
- guides
- newsletters
- brochures
- maps
- and more

Aerial view of the State Library

eClips

eClips is a daily news clipping service & blog that highlights articles related to the business of Oregon State Government.

Find us at

<https://statelibraryeclips.wordpress.com/>

