

Learn Telehealth This Fall & Winter

Overview of Telehealth & Role of the Coordinator

In this 10-week course you'll:

- Learn about telehealth and its history
- Explore available telehealth technology
- Learn how telehealth works and how it's being used in health care today
- Look at successful telehealth programs
- Discuss current research: Where is telehealth going in the future

$495

Class starts October 1st

Become a Certified Telehealth Coordinator

In this 10-week course you'll:

- Explore the roles for a telehealth coordinator
- Study the clinical, administrative and logistical aspects of a telehealth program
- Find out how you can make your telehealth program successful
- Develop key measures of program success

$495

Class starts October 2nd

Become a Certified Telehealth Program Manager

In this 24-week course you'll:

- Establish a business case for telehealth
- Develop a telehealth business plan
- Learn how to market your telehealth program
- Evaluate key factors to success and sustainment of a telehealth program

$895

Class starts January 16th, 2014

To register, go to <http://aceweb.uas.alaska.edu> or for more information email jbrudzinski@anthc.org.

Space is limited so DON'T DELAY!

The AFHCAN Training Program is accredited by the American Telemedicine Association and offered online through the University of Alaska Southeast. Continuing education credit provided by UAS. CME also provided in partnership with the Alaska Native Medical Center (ANMC) for physicians: ANMC is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians. ANMC designates this online course for a maximum of 30 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit (s)[™]. Course 3 is awarded 60 Credits.